FINANCE AND BUSINESS.

GENERAL MARKET REVIEW. MONEY MATTERS.

The Financial Chronicle of July 17, says of the money market and financial situ- The slight improvement noticed in Philadelation: The financial markets have this week been unusually free from exciting topics of discussion, or disturbing rumors of York no important improvement is noticed. any sufficient degree of probability to Important concessions are made on all sales, affect prices. There is still talk about the and good brands can be bought lower than bids for the treasury loan to be received on the 23d inst., and also in regard to the currency law, and the railroad suits west, but all these subjects have lost their novelty, and their first effect on prices has already been felt or discounted. The railroad question in Wisconsin, as stated in our report last week, has been put in shape to be argued before the United States Supreme Court at the October term, and in the meantime an injunction to prevent the companies from violating the law has been applied for in the state courts, and the case set down for hearing on Tuesday, August 4 The important question involved in the railroad laws of the western states, is analogous in principle to one which has already been deeply agitated in this country. It ier tone to the pig iron market than for many months past. Bar duli at 2.9, and insistant in regard to property of home legentirely by foreigners; and whether it land there is an improving demand for pig comes up in the shape of a question for taxislation in regard to property owned almost ation to pay interest on principal of bonds of legislation to compel a reduction of rates our own. The makers' prices, July 8, were on railroads owned—both stock and debt by outsiders, the principle involved is nearly identical. It is evident that the temptaion to ignore the rights of non residents holding liens on property within a state, has too frequently been yielded to in this country, and a further giving away in the same direction will go far to destroy the credit of western municipalities or railroad corporations as borrowers in the markets of New York or London.

THE NEW LOAN.

The leading topic of interest in money matters this week is the subscription to the new five per cent. loan of $179,000,000, to be opened on Thursday. The Journal of Commerce says: There has been so much of the vague and indefinite in regard to the secreary's circular, and the time for presenting proposals was so short, that investors at a distance from the money centers of New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Baltimore are as yet uncertain about what is really meant to be done. This morning we copied a paragraph from the Philadelphia Ledger's money article, which stated that the new interpretation regarding payments of interest had kept back investors there to the extent of several millions, and that under it a corner in gold was feared. This matter was fully discussed in the bond market to day. Mr. Brexel thinks there must be some mis-take about it, as he has heard of no pool in Philadelphia, and the article would seem o suggest the existence of one. In any event, this is a further proof of the unsatisfactory form of the circular, showing the general lack of understanding in the matter. The conditions of the negotiations have been twice stated by us, and the bankers here are well informed. We wish we could say that of other localities. Californians would not be in time with subscriptions unless they sent them yesterday. Chicago and St. Louis must send at latest next Tuesday, Boston and Circinnati must send Tuesday, while New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore must have their bids in any important bids will be received at the treasury until Tuesday or Wednesday. The possibility of a gold correct possibility Wednesday's mail. It is not probable that possibility of a gold corner growing out of the matter is involved in the question of amount of home subscriptions. The bonds $1 00@1 10; white, $100@1 15. to be called are mostly in Europe. If the new bonds were subscribed in Europe, the secretary would send an agent over and make the exchange in London, as was done with the old syndicate. That would not involve the handling of gold. But if say $60,-000,000 were sub-cribed in the United States, about $50,000,000 gold would have to change hands, and sending that amount to the treasury would be apt to put up the price of gold. Such an event is not expected, how-

To-day, it is said, that a German syndicate is prepared to bid for $50,000,000 and take a call on the remainder for ninety days.

PROVISIONS. The weekly review of the Chicago Inter-Ocean says: There has been a fair business transacted in the provision market during the past week, and a further appreciation in prices has been gained, especially for future delivery. kets also exhibited more strength, in sympa-thy with the advancing tendency here. The bulk of the trading, however, was on speculative account, and principally for August delivery. There was a moderate inquiry for product to be delivered during the year, and sellers were enabled to obtain a further advance of 121/2 cents on mess pork, and 1/4 of a cent on lard-the recent advance in the price of live hogs, and the moderate receipts giving the impression that the supn the market at prices as low as any house in he west, and that very few houses can dupilate. There is a little more inquiry for summer-cured meats, owing to the fact that the average weight is lighter, which makes some descriptions more desirable for particular markets, and manufacturers experience no difficulty in disposing of their produce at about the same prices as are current for winter-cured. The receipts of provisions during the week were light, Allay pains, subdus swellings, heal burns and will cure rheu- a fair portion of the meats and lard being of matism, spavin, and any fiesh. summer cure. In manufactured iron and steel a fair order the current quotations. Manufacturers of bar iron are firmer, and will not take contracts for future delivery at present rates. At Philadelphia the slight improvement noticed last week continues. Forge pig is re-ported in active demand at present rates. There is as much doing in rails as is usual at this time of the year. Quite a number of orders are offering on acceptable terms. At Pittsburgh prices remain the same, but the feeling grows firmer as inquiries increase and offerings decrease in number. Bar Iron 21/2c. for immediate orders, but orders for future delivery are not taken at carrent rates. WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE INDIANAPOLIS WHOLESALE MARKETS MONDAY EVENING, July 20.

For the past week prices have been generally very steady and firm, though it has been one of the quiet and inactive weeks everywere in the country. The leading feature has been a low but steady advance in corn, which is to-day worth 61c for high mixed in elevator. Wheat is dull, but in view of the large crop now secure it holds up well at $1 for new red to $1 15 for choice white. Flour is a drag and quotes a shade lower at $6.50 for the best. Provisions are firm and getting a little scronger day by day. Butter is in better demand for good, if good can be bad. It is worth 20 to 25 cents if presented in good order. Eggs are coming in freely but in rather bad condition, and the price is weak and un-certain. Sugars are firm, brisk and quoted 1/4c higher. Coffees are dull and weak. Sales were made of 35 half casks C. R. bacon at 1034c; 5 half casks C. R. bacon at 1134c; 100,000 pounds C. R.

L. Sheeran, collector of customs at Kodiak, Alaska, has in his possession an Aleutian mummy, procured from a cave on Kodiak island. The mummy is described by a correspondent of the Alaska Herald as simply "skin and bones." He is now, and was when found, sitting in a crouching position. his head turned to the right, his face directly on a line with his right shoulder. When the skin is touched it sounds like a drum. Part of his hair is on and his moustache is perfect, Portions of his skin remain, and his tarbasaux (boots) are nearly perfect. It is worthy of mention that, although the mummy has been exposed for over a year, there is no change perceptible. The implements found with him denote that many years have elapsed since the gentleman was deposited in the cave, The second union convention, " for the promotion of holiness in life through the Lord Jesus Christ," opened its session last week at Ocean Grove, N. J. The Ocean Grove association has given the convention the use of its beautiful camp grounds. The call for this convention was signed by prominent clergymen of the Presbyterian, Baptist, Congregational, Protestant Episcopal, Methodist Episcopal, and Friends denominations in various states of the union. Its object is to promote true christian brotherhood among all sects of christians. No denomination of christians is excluded from it.
